

SUCCESS!

The canned goods sale which we held in all our stores in January was a tremendous success. We sold a large quantity of all varieties of canned foods, and the quality was the best. Beginning with March 2nd, and ending March 7th, one whole week will be devoted to our second tremendous canned goods sale. Owing to our wonderful purchasing power we are able to sell goods at considerable under wholesale costs. Now is the time to stock up.

BIG RAILROADS STALLED BY SNOW

GREAT STORMS THAT HAVE HIT NEW ENGLAND IN RECENT YEARS

1905—Storm that began in second week in February blocked traffic, and the intense cold and ice in the sound held up the shipping for days. Snow two feet deep.

1909—Storm of March 4, ruined the inauguration of President Taft, crippled telegraph service so news of his inauguration was delayed for days.

1910—Storm of January 14, heavy snow blocked everything.

1911—Storm of February 6, held up traffic and ruined wire service and was marked by intense cold.

1913—Storm of March 22, delayed traffic, and many persons were injured by falls on ice that underlaid fall of snow.

1914—Storm of February 14, shut off the milk supply in some parts of the city, clogged the streets, and is still with us.

Storm of March 1—Wires down, trains stalled; extent of damage not yet determined.

Storm with which all other storms are compared was from March 12 to 14, 1888, when 40 inches of snow fell, temperature was 5 above zero, drifts were twelve feet high, wind sixty miles an hour.

The street was broken and the roof of the rectory adjoining the church, was torn off.

Roofs and signs were blown down, all over the city and thousands of panes of glass were broken.

Parting of the height of the storm, the Lutheran church of the Reformation at Lanvale and Caroline streets, caught fire and was destroyed. The church stood in the center of a thickly populated section and many residences fled to the storm-wet streets, scantily attired.

One thousand barrels of whiskey were destroyed when two big warehouses at Danbury, Conn., were burned today, with a loss estimated at $100,000.

STORM DAMAGE HEAVY, RAILROADS TIES UP

Philadelphia, March 2.—Railroad traffic between this city and New York, which was completely tied up by the greater part of last night by the blizzard was resumed early today but there was no attempt made to maintain schedules.

Damage in this city and the surrounding country was heavy. Numerous plate glass windows were broken here, houses were unroofed, telegraph and electric poles were leveled and signs were torn from their hangings.

CENTRAL NEW ENGLAND TRAINS ARE ANNULED

Danbury, Conn., March 2.—All train service over the Central New England Railroad was suspended this morning and there was no telling when it can be resumed. The last train to reach Danbury from Foughkeepsie was the passenger train which here last evening at 7:07 o'clock, which did not arrive until 11:47 p. m. A milk train due here at 8:17 has not come through and is said to be stalled somewhere west of Hopewell Junction.

The west-bound Federal Express left here last evening not very late but was unable to get through and returned to Danbury, arriving here at 5:30 o'clock this morning. It was sent down via Hawleyville and Bridgeport. The Federal Express is stalled on this division. On account of the dangerous condition of the track between Berkshire Junction and Brookfield Junction, all trains to and from Pittsford and Danbury are being switched to Hawleyville Junction.

SCHOONER'S CARGO IS STREWN ALONG BEACH

Block Island, R. I., March 2.—The bones of the four-masted schooner Jacob S. Winslow were all that remained of the vessel after the gale. Most of the vessel and her cargo of lumber were scattered along the southeast shore where the islanders, with teams of oxen, were busy salvaging. The body of the negro engineer, William Hannibal, of New Haven, who was drowned in the surf, was taken in charge by the island's undertaker.

OBITUARY

Many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the funeral of John Rooney, when his funeral was held today from the home of his sister, 7 Bell street, at 3 o'clock. At St. Charles' church at 3 o'clock the Rev. P. J. McGivney celebrated a high requiem mass. At the offertory Miss Irene Harville sang "Ave Maria," and after mass "Thy Will Be Done." The bearers were John McGivney, Michael Gill, William McGivney, George Sellick, Michael Roy and Frank Deloury. Burial was in St. Michael's cemetery.

Cyril, aged six, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan, of 3 Tom Thumb street, died today at St. Vincent's hospital after a brief illness.

Michael J. Larkin, a well known plumber, residing at 79 Maplewood avenue, died today at the Bridgeport hospital. He was 3 and is survived by his widow and one daughter. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum.

Following a long illness, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Wilson died yesterday at her home of her sister, Mrs. N. L. Morphey, 748 State street. She was a native of Bridgeport. In addition to Mrs. Morphey, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. James G. Burnett, of New Haven, and four brothers, William, Henry, Frederick and Eugene M., of Bridgeport and Samuel H., of Cleveland, O.

The funeral of Mrs. Grace E. Dodge, wife of Samuel R. Dodge, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the home, 689 Noble avenue, with Rev. Chauncey Lindsey, a relative, officiating. Burial was in Park cemetery.

FEDERALS AND REBELS IN ALL-DAY BATTLE

Eagle Pass, Tex., March 2.—Mexican federal authorities last night ordered a field hospital opened near Rio Molino, 50 miles west of Piedras Negras on official report that an all-day battle had raged there by which a number had been killed. Two hundred dragoons under Major Ocoasta engaged 100 rebels commanded by Dolores Torres.

REBELS GAIN GROUND IN FIGHTING AT MAZATLAN

Mexico City, March 2.—The rebels who began an attack on Mazatlan three days ago have gained ground until they are now fighting within the city limits, according to authentic information received Saturday night. It was also reported that the water supply of Mazatlan is cut off. According to advices received by the war department, however, the rebels have been pushed back into El Castillo, a suburb of Mazatlan, suffering heavy losses.

HEAVY GUARD WATCHES OVER GEN. CARRANZA

Douglas, Ariz., March 2.—Precautions have been taken to assure Gen. Carranza's safety on his journey to Agua Prieta, constitutionalists say. A strict border patrol has been established from Agua Prieta west and the cordon of sentries is doubled at night. This alertness follows recent reports that federal sympathizers had been crossing the border and gathering in the Ajo mountains west of Naco to oppose Carranza's eastward march.

SHELTON AND DERBY SUFFER SEVERELY IN WIND AND FLOOD

(Special to The Farmer.)

Derby, March 2.—Watchmen in the employ of the New Haven road multiplied their vigilance on the trestles over the Housatonic river today when an ice jam began to form in the rapidly rising waters. While trains were being run over the bridge, late today, there was grave fear that if the ice went out the river in its present turbulent condition, the trestle would be torn away and traffic seriously interrupted.

Thousands of dollars' damage were wrought here over night by the wind and flood. The factories along the canal, in Shelton, were imperiled in the rising water; some were unable to run, others were damaged by the heavy winds.

The yards in this city of F. Hallock, a dealer in builders' supplies, were inundated and hundreds of barrels of cement ruined. In the gale of last night, about 100 square feet of the roof of a building in the yard of the Derby gas plant was torn away. A fire wall 40 feet high in the Derby Silver Cutlery Co. was blown down for nearly 60 feet, and in its collapse a part of an adjoining building was badly damaged. Part of the roof of the Shelton Rubber Reclaiming Co. was blown off.

The plants of the Shelton Star Pen Co. the Derby Silver Cutlery Co. and the International Silver Co. were badly crippled. Water power from the canal is an important element in the operation of the plants. It was feared this afternoon that others in the "mills of factories" along the canal would be unable to operate if conditions grew worse.

All passenger trains scheduled to use the trestle over the river were doing so, but there were six men stationed on the trestle to watch for signs of danger. Housatonic avenue was mostly under water this afternoon. The Derby Country club was considerably damaged. Celars along the water front were flooded beyond all expectation. Old timers say the water is higher than it has been since the big dam burst more than two decades ago.

B. H. S. Seniors Elect Historian, Prophet And Poet

Miss Japp, Mr. Logan and Miss Erhard Are the Ones Chosen

The Seniors of the Bridgeport High school met this noon at the close of the morning session to select the members of the class to hold the responsible offices of poet, historian and prophet of the class. President Edward O'Neill occupied the chair. The nominees for class historian were Stanley Willis, Miss Lillian Wilson and Miss Winifred Japp. Miss Japp received eight more votes than Mr. Willis and so was declared elected. Robert Schneiderwind, Elliot Logan and Francis Hallen were the candidates for class prophet. Mr. Logan received 46 votes, Mr. Schneiderwind four and Mr. Hallen twenty-five.

Miss Francis Erhard was chosen as class poet in contest with Miss Ida May Bowers and Cecil Klokorn.

When the announcements of the successful candidates were delivered by Pres. O'Neill the applause was deafening. The exercises of Senior Day will be held in the fore part of June and upon that day poet, historian and prophet will read their works.

James Shannon, Elliot and Miss Erhard were selected to represent the class as a debating team. The matter of holding a class banquet was discussed but nothing definite was done about the matter. After agreeing to contribute one-third the cost of a cup to be given to the debating society the meeting adjourned. This cup will be presented to the class whose debating team is successful in the inter-class debate soon to be held.

CAPT. JOHN BOND'S CASE CONTINUED BY TOWN BARBER

The Old War Horse May Get "Close Shave" on Wednesday

The charges of selling liquor in an unlicensed place made against Capt. John Bond and Scott Talmadge, will be heard on Wednesday. The men were arraigned before Justice Louis Polley, the town barber, in the Stratford town hall today and the hearings continued, because Attorney John S. Polley, who is counsel for the accused, was unable to be present. The bonds of $300 for Capt. Bond and $150 for Talmadge which were furnished by the captain himself were allowed to stand.

Capt. Bond with Talmadge, who is employed by him, was arrested yesterday afternoon by State Policemen Rowe H. Wheeler and Anthony Fellows. Many fighters of note have trained at Bond's quarters in Stratford and among followers of the boxing game the place is known the world over. Battling LeVinsky, Knockout Brown, Johnny Howard and a half dozen other well known fighters are training there now.

The captain conducts a cafe and clubhouse on the water front directly opposite his home. Yesterday afternoon it is alleged an unusually large number of men called at the place to see the fighters work out. It is alleged that there were 30 or 40 men in the house when the state policeman called. Because the law places no penalty for frequenting an unlicensed place the men were not arrested with the proprietor and his assistant. Two cases of lager and a quantity of whiskey and gin were taken from the house. Miss Morchessie will prosecute the cases when they come before the court on Wednesday.

CANDIDACIES OF SOCIALISTS ON STATE TICKET

For the first time since the installation, Rev. George Oliver Tamblin occupied the pulpit of Olivet Congregational church yesterday, preaching at both morning and evening services. In the morning he took "God's Love" as his theme and at night "What I Believe." There was an unusually large attendance considering the inclement weather. There was a communion service in connection with the morning worship. There was the first section of a communicative class at 10 o'clock with 37 present. The class will meet at 10 o'clock every Sunday morning until Easter when the members will be received into the church. According to present indications about 50 will be received into the church at that time.

OLIVETS' NEW PASTOR GREETED BY LARGE AND ADMIRING CONGREGATIONS

The State socialists have completed the recapitulation of the primaries closed Feb. 11, and the following candidates have developed: Governor—Samuel E. Beardsley, Shelton; George Speils, Jr., Hartford. Lieutenant Governor—Charles T. Peach, Waterbury.

Attorney General—Ernest Berger, Bridgeport.

Treasurer—Herbert N. Beebe, New Britain; Dr. W. F. Hinckley, Waterbury; Ernest D. Hull, Naugatuck.

Comptroller—John J. Gore, Danbury; Isador Polsky, New Haven; Joseph Heck, Meriden; Albert Boardman, Norwich; Henry P. Lezotte, Waterbury.

Congressman, Fourth District—John Sullivan, Bridgeport; Dewitt C. Turner, Danbury.

Robert Hunter has declined to run for United States senator, and there having been no other nominations a further poll will be made.

HOWLAND'S

Entrances in Main Street, Fairfield Avenue, and Cannon Street.
Bridgeport, Conn. The Weather—Snow, colder tomorrow.
Monday, March 2, 1914.

We are busy counting ballots. Just as soon as the count is finished, we will announce the winners in the Dolls' Show. Can't set any definite time for the announcement—for there are a great many votes to count and a great many dolls figure in the voting.

The Show was a wonderful success, in every way. We want to thank all the girls and all the grownups who helped to make it such. They are to be complimented on having made a Doll Show of such great novelty and attractiveness.

Howland corsets in the new models.

In the new Howland corsets for spring, we present models that are attuned to Fashion's fancy—and that insure stylish figure, graceful carriage, and full comfort to the wearer.

Here is a girdle-top corset with long skirt. It gives the figure a slender grace which is very very delightful.

Here are styles in the free-hip model. They have practically no boning over the hip; are strong though flexible and admirably suited to the woman who likes ease yet appreciates a good figure.

Every Howland corset is made with a double boning of aluminum. This is flexible though strong, it cannot break, it supports the figure without being irksome. Every Howland corset has a special re-enforced clasp at the bottom of the front steels which is an insurance against tearing out.

Howland corsets are sold with a distinct guarantee of satisfactory service. They are insured against failure. With their grace and good-style and thorough goodness, they are unusual value at their low prices of $1 to $2.

Cap'n Dan's Daughter, Joe Lincoln's new story, is very enjoyable.

There's nobody writes quite like Joe Lincoln. His Down-East folks are wonderfully delightful book companions. He tells a story so it interests from first page to last. And there's a homely goodness to his books that is refreshing. Cap'n Dan's Daughter, just published, deserves a place with his other good stories. It has the same charm, and interest, and thorough wholesomeness. No; we'll not tell you what it's about; that would spoil your enjoyment. $1.35

Some other new stories well worth reading:—
The Hills o' Hampshire—Cressy and Harvey—$1.25.
The Light of Western Stars—Zane Grey—$1.35.
The Jam Girl—Sterrett—$1.25.
Miss Billy, Married—Foster—$1.25.
Stanley Jane—Anna Warner—$1.
The After House—Mary R. Rinehart—$1.25.
It Happened in Egypt—The Williams—$1.25.
Dark Hollow—Anna Katherine Green—$1.35.
The Ledger—Lowndes—$1.25.

There are some new books at 50 cents too that are worth more than usual attention. Queed, that excellent book by Henry Sydnor Harrison is among them. In the original edition it sold fast and long. Now it joins the Howland family of 50-cent books to win new friends.

Others newly arrived are:—

Just Patty—Jean Webster.
The Chalice of Courage—Cyrus T. Brady.
Sins of the Father—Thomas Dixon.
Trinity Belle—Amelia Barr.
The Closing Net—Henry C. Rowland.
The Boss—McConaghy and Sheldon.

CITY COURT CASES

George Caulfield, employed at the Hotel Royal on State street, was before Judge Frank L. Wilder today in the city court on a charge of having assaulted one John T. Tobin, Saturday night. On account of Tobin's not appearing and inability to locate him, the case was continued until tomorrow and a capias for Tobin ordered issued. It is reported at police headquarters that Tobin's home is in Waterbury. Search is to be made for him there. Caulfield furnished a $50 cash bond following his arrest. It was reported that Tobin was causing a disturbance and that Proprietor Ballard sent Caulfield upstairs to try and quiet the trouble.

Upon the request of Attorney Jacob B. Klein, charges against Samuel Chernoff alleging the misappropriation of $37.61 from the Union Dry Goods and Cloak Co., Main street, were continued until March 10 in bonds of $1,500.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Emma Laubacher, wife of Arnold Laubacher, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the home, 439 Park street, with Rev. E. H. Kenyon, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiating. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery.

MISS BOYLAN ARRIVES PREPARED FOR HER TASK

Miss Marguerite Boylan, assistant to Mr. Myers of the Charity Organization society, arrived in town today as scheduled. Miss Boylan comes from New York where she had had considerable experience along sociological lines. Previous to her work in that city she was for three years in Columbus, Ohio, in charity work. She is a graduate of the Ohio State University, where she took a Master's degree in Sociology.

WILL KEEP OPEN UNTIL MIDNIGHT

With receipt of a number of personal income tax blanks from Washington, and large numbers of balanced declarations coming into the office here and at Hartford, the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the custom house building today received instructions from Commissioner Osborne at Washington to keep the office open until midnight tonight.

It was said that a limited supply of blanks had been received yesterday and it was hoped that they would take care of the needs of this city.
